

A-C-T Environmental Nominated for the 12th Annual GrowFL Florida Companies to Watch Honorees

(Lakeland, FL. 11 October 2022) GrowFL Florida announced their 12th Annual Florida Companies to Watch Honorees list. Developed by Edward Lowe, the goal of Companies to Watch is to “uniquely recognize and honor second-stage companies that demonstrate high performance in the marketplace with innovative strategies and processes.”

Among the nominees was A-C-T Environmental & Infrastructure. A-C-T has a proven and growing track record of reliability and dedicated service to the community, being recognized as one of the “Top 100 companies to work for” by Florida Trend in 2021. Companies were judged on a number of criteria including growth in the number of employees; impact of the business in the job market; increase in sales and/or unit volume; current and past financial reports; innovativeness of the product or service; response to adversity; and contributions to aid community-oriented projects.

Starting in 1987 as a small, family owned contractor, A-C-T Environmental & Infrastructure developed into a multi-disciplined, full service professional contracting firm. After 35 years in business, A-C-T has continued to make their mark on the industry. Companies named to the list will be officially recognized at the 12th Annual GrowFL Florida Companies to Watch Celebration on February 23, 2023, at the Hard Rock Live in Universal CityWalk, Orlando, FL.

About A-C-T Environmental & Infrastructure

A-C-T was started in 1987 as a small family owned contractor that has grown significantly into a full service professional contracting firm, specializing in “quick response, sensible solutions, superb customer service and expert reports.” A-C-T Environmental & Infrastructure works to reduce the risk, liability and long term environmental impact from waste management and disaster response, while providing community aid for services like environmental and occupational health, decontamination, emergency response, industrial services and more. A-C-T has built a reputation as the most responsive, cost-effective and quality-conscious service provider in the industry, while maintaining the highest level of confidentiality.
